

each other, and the crowd grew fearful for their safety as the dusk gathered. Workers in the Wright quarters poured out little puddles of gasoline on the field and then lit the torches. Guided by the flames and the twinkling of the brilliant gas lamps in front of the hangars they found their way home.

The Gordon-Bennett elimination trials scheduled for this afternoon, were repeatedly announced and postponed, and the American team knew not whether they were on or off. They finally were set for tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Hamilton, Moisant, the Wright brothers and Glenn H. Curtiss made vigorous protest. "Nine o'clock is the very worst time in the day to fly," they told the aviation committee. "The wind always blows at 9 o'clock."

Headful of this formality, the protest committee agreed to call the trials at 9 o'clock tomorrow, but with the saving clause which permits any aviator to start when he chooses, provided only that he shall finish before 5:30 in the afternoon. This concession proved satisfactory.

Moisant will enter in the elimination trials tomorrow, as also will the American team. The Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor and return. He said to-night that he would lay the course straight to the mark, without regard for the roof tops and pinnacles of the greater city. He expects to fly at a height of at least 5,000 feet. Count De Lesseps rose very late in the day for altitude, and brought back third place.

The colonel stopped talking for a moment and looked around, but did not see Mr. Parker. The latter turned away and walked into the station.

Colonel Roosevelt will continue his speech-making tour to-morrow.

Venable was severely stabbed in the left side last Friday night by the two men who were in the row in Venable's restaurant. SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE

Tuberculosis Discovered Among Cattle at Central Hospital.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 105 North Sycamore Street, Richmond, Va., October 26.

The Southside Agricultural Exhibit will be formally opened to-morrow by President T. F. Heath, of the Chamber of Commerce. Governor William Hodges Mann was expected to perform this ceremony, but he will not be able to be present until Friday, when he will deliver an address. Nearly every exhibit in place this evening, and the fair as a whole will prove a splendid success, not only in respect to the great number and variety of the exhibits, but also to their excellence. Chesterfield is well represented, and the same may be said of all the counties of the Southside. The Norfolk and Western Railway Company is one of the exhibitors, with a fine display of the products of its experimental farm at Ivor. The Colored Normal and Industrial Institute has also a fine exhibit of the work of its students.

Sunday School Institute.
A Sunday school institute, under the direction of the Methodist Sunday School Union, will be held in Washington Street Church on Sunday and Monday next. The institute will be conducted by Rev. H. M. Hamill, D. D., superintendent of training work of the M. E. Church. South Meetings will be held Sunday afternoon and Monday afternoon and night.

The Baptist Churches of Petersburg are arranging for a Sunday School Institute to be held some time in November, details of which have not yet been completed. This institute will continue for several days.

Tuberculosis Among Cattle.
Dr. W. F. Drewry, superintendent of the Central State Hospital, suspecting the presence of tuberculosis among a fine herd of cattle at the hospital, had the entire herd tested several days ago by an expert of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Washington, D. C. This was done for the protection of the people at the hospital, and to insure an absolutely sound herd.

About 30 per cent of the herd reacted in the tuberculin test, showing evidence of tuberculosis in varying stages of development. The infected cattle were promptly separated from those found to be sound, and will be disposed of in accordance with the regulations of the bureau. The loss of these infected cattle will be felt for a while until sound cattle can be procured to take their places. The present herd numbered about forty-five.

Arrested in Norfolk.
Ben Johnson, negro, who bears the alias of "Chicken Leg," a fugitive from justice in this case, has been arrested in Norfolk, and an officer was sent for him this afternoon. Johnson committed the terrible double murder of the row in Venable's restaurant.

General News in Brief.

The increase in the values of land and improvements in Petersburg under the new assessment is over $2,000,000, which will increase the city's tax receipts next year by $28,000 or more.

A stranger named K. Zarrow, who has been in Petersburg for some time on business, was arrested and jailed this morning on the charge of assaulting his wife at their boarding house on Bollingbrook Street.

The Mayor Wants Information.

Mayor Cameron to-day addressed a letter to Robert Gilliam, clerk of the House of Delegates, asking that under section 229 of the Code of Virginia it be required that the judge of the Hustings or Corporation Court "shall appoint a commission in charge of the jail, which commission is to report quarterly as to the condition existing in the jail, and asking for a copy of the commission appointed by the Hon. J. M. Mullen for the last three quarters of the year.

The Mayor recently wrote to Judge Mullen requesting that to more than 1000 homes be granted in this city, and visited the jail yesterday, made an inspection of the building and gave suggestions as to the food served the prisoners.

DR. W. W. MOORE ADDRESSES SYNOD

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Rocky Mount, N. C., October 26.—The address of Rev. Walter W. Moore, D. D., president of the Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, to the Synod of North Carolina during this morning's session was a feature of the synod that will always live. The fact that he was speaking again in his native State added tenderness to his thought and feeling to his words, and he was heard with that close attention which he always commands, and he also was loved. His tribute to the "Tar-heel" and to the "long-leaf pine" was a gem of the poetic, the eloquent and the impressive. No man has appeared before the synod, and none will appear, who will interest and please more than that accorded Dr. Moore. In his closing words he spoke briefly of the seminary and especially of the endowment of $300,000, which it is hoped will be secured before 1912, and which will be the central year of the seminary.

A campaign in the interest of this endowment is now being carried on in the synods of Virginia and North Carolina. Rev. W. S. Lacy is field agent in this campaign, and he also was in the continental year of the seminary.

Bible Society Interests.

Immediately after the moderator, A. M. Seales, had appointed the standing committees, and other items of business had been cleared from the docket, synod listened to an interesting and instructive address in the interest of the American Bible Society. Rev. M. B. Porter, of Richmond, district agent of the society, was the speaker. He gave some interesting facts concerning his work, and showed that the Presbyterian Church is the only church to co-ordinate the interests of the society with other benevolences; also the percentage contribution which the Presbyterians give is larger than that of any other denomination, yet it is little more than 2 cents per member. He showed that last year was one of the best in the history of the society, and yet the interest from the endowment brought in only one-seventh of the money needed, less than $80,000 being available for current expenses. More than 1,000,000 copies of the scriptures were circulated last year, copies in sixty-five dialects having been distributed in this country.

It is expected that more than 300,000 copies in thirty dialects will be distributed this year in the South Atlantic States alone.

Six ministers in this synod have died since the meeting of the body a year ago—Revs. M. C. A. Woodward, John Wakefield, J. M. Wharr, C. W. Trawick, S. P. Jeter and Joseph Evans.

Especially noted was the special order for that hour, the communion service, which was held at 10:30 o'clock, followed by the memorial service, when the six members who had died were remembered.

The Presbyterians Sunday schools in Mecklenburg county were read, recommending that the fourth Sabbath in every month be known as Bible Week, and the contributions on that day be given to the orphanage.

A noon held no session this afternoon, the time being occupied with committee meetings.

Report on Foreign Missions.

The best report on foreign missions ever submitted to the synod was that presented this evening at the popular meeting in that interest. Rev. R. F. Campbell, D. D., chairman of the committee, presided over the meeting and read the report.

The carefully prepared figures show that during the year just closed, with a membership of less than 45,000, synod has contributed $73,639 to foreign missions, as against $53,418 contributed the year before, and $38,061 contributed two years before. One year ago only five churches were on the honor roll as a result of having contributed more than $4 per member to foreign missions, whereas fourteen churches are now upon that roll. This year, as last year, the First Presbyterian Church, of Wilmington, leads in this honor, having contributed $30 per member, as against $17.26 last year. A report of such liberality and such achievement in the cause of foreign missions has never been presented before in North Carolina by any denomination, and it will be the means of quickening the church to accomplish greater things. The speaker of the evening was Rev. W. D. Reynolds, a missionary to Korea, who has spent the past several years in that country. Neal L. Anderson, chairman of the committee on Union Theological Seminary, submitted the report of the committee on the cause of the seminary, which recommended hearty co-operation on the part of the entire synod in the work of securing the endowment of the seminary.
